Aim

Denefield has its own distinctive uniform. There are good reasons for this. The most important is that our students come from a wide variety of backgrounds and uniform helps us create a sense of our school as a community. Moreover, smart appearance is very important for students' self-esteem, and this will inevitably have an impact on their behaviour and the quality of their learning. Some of our students, understandably, like to show they can keep up with the latest trends in teenage fashions. This puts other students, and their parents who have limited resources, under unnecessary pressure. A school uniform removes these distractions and allows students to concentrate on their learning.

We ask parents to resist reacting to each change of fashion where school uniform and hairstyles are concerned. Often what is fashionable is unsuitable for wearing at school. We have kept our uniform as simple as we can with the maximum number of standard items easily obtainable at reasonable prices from many retail and mail order outlets. School branded items are obtainable online from our uniform suppliers, Price & Buckland, and at on-site sales events.

At Denefield we are committed to providing a safe and inclusive environment. We set high standards and expect all students to show respect for the school uniform and to wear it with pride.

Through our school uniform, we aim to promote a spirit of identity with, and support for, the school ethos, nurture community cohesion and promote equality and good relations between different groups of students, encourage tolerance and respect and protect students from social pressures to dress in a particular way.

Purpose

This policy sets out a standard approach to decisions about the enforcement of school uniform. We believe that uniform should be inclusive at all levels – socially, culturally and religiously and that it should consist of clothing and accessories that are practical and safe for use in school. The uniform should be easily available and branded items kept to a minimum.

The wearing of correct uniform is compulsory at Denefield and students who do not comply with the expectations will be out of circulation.

Roles and responsibilities:

The Headteacher will:

- implement the School Uniform Policy within the school.
- make any final decision regarding questions of uniform compliance.
- if necessary, send students home to change into correct uniform.

The Trust Board will:

- have due regard for the Public Sector Equality Duty and will review the school uniform to ensure that it does not discriminate or disadvantage students with protected characteristics.
- monitor, review, and evaluate the School Uniform Policy through reports to the standards committee.

All staff will:

- ensure that students are correctly dressed in lessons and around the school site, as well as on those educational visits where uniform is a requirement.

Tutors will:

- monitor students' compliance with this school uniform policy.
- follow up any issues of non-compliance by informing the school's pastoral team and contacting parents/carers.

Students will:

- attend school appropriately dressed in correct uniform.

Parents/carers will:

- ensure their child attends school appropriately dressed in correct uniform.
- support the authority and discipline of the school.
- discuss any uniform concerns with staff when necessary.

Enforcement

For minor breaches of School Uniform Policy, staff may use some or all of the following sanctions:

- a student may be required to remove excess items of jewellery or non-compliant clothing if this can be done safely and decently. Students may also be required to change into the emergency footwear provided by the school if they are wearing boots, trainers or any other type of inappropriate shoes.
- the student may be out of circulation – including breaks, lunchtimes and during lessons, until they agree to comply with the uniform rules; and
- the student may be required to wear uniform items provided by the school or may be sent home to dress appropriately in accordance with the organisation's expectations.

Sixth Form dress and non-uniform days (Years 7 – 11)

Sixth Form students are not required to wear uniform but are required to comply with the Sixth Form dress code, to reflect their more senior status in school. In addition, non-uniform days are occasionally used to raise charitable funds for national and international good causes. In these circumstances, the clothing worn by students must still comply with the following principles:

- It must be safe and practical for school use;
- It must not promote unacceptable messages – drugs, violence, racism etc. The Headteacher will decide on limits of acceptability;
- It must not conceal identity; and
- It must not be indecent.

Complaints

Denefield school reserves the right to decide what is appropriate clothing for students to wear while on our school site.

Any complaints about school uniform, dress codes or other aspects of appearance should be made in the first instance to the Headteacher.

If the complaint is not satisfactorily resolved, the complaint should be brought to the attention of the Chair of the Trust Board through the Clerk to Governors in accordance with the school's complaints procedures.

Trustees will not hear complaints against staff relating to fair enforcement of the policy.

Requests to vary the uniform requirements for particular reasons, such as medical or religious needs, will always be considered carefully.

Arrangements for monitoring and consultation

Our uniform policy is reviewed every three years; the review includes consideration of uniform items, supply, cost, and value for money. Parents are consulted regularly through the termly Parents' Forum meetings; students are consulted through House, School, and Sixth Form Councils.

Sixth Form

Denefield Sixth Form students are role models for our younger students. Their standards of dress are an important part of the culture of our Sixth Form. We are a sixth form based on a school site. We have high standards of dress as part of our values and ethos, and we expect sixth form students to lead the community by example.

We believe that the way we dress influences our mind-set positively. Our dress code supports a focused working day that allows students to live rich and varied lives in their own time outside of school.

We have a dress code that is not a prescriptive uniform. We expect students to have a smart appearance, and we allow for a degree of personal expression. The Head of Sixth Form, and Sixth Form Team, reserve the right to make the final decision as to whether an item of clothing is considered business-like dress.

Our intention is to allow an element of freedom of expression within the boundaries set out below. For example, coloured or patterned trousers, provided they are smart in cut and material, would be acceptable.
